Supplemental Detailed Action

1.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 18-34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dahlby.

With respect to claims 18 and 24, Dahlby teaches a method, and an apparatus for performing the method, as shown by figure 1, whereby the method and apparatus of printing data files (jobs) using an image printing device (see figure 1), comprising:

Storing data files in a storage device (print queue 160) associated with the image printing device; selecting, in an arbitrary order (manual selection via desired order by operator, see col. 6, lines 37-42), a plurality of the data files stored in the storage device; displaying a serial number (job number displayed in figure 8, see also col. 7, lines 34-48) indicating the selected printing order of the selected plurality of data files; and printing the selected plurality of data files, wherein the plurality of data files re printed in the selected order (as determined in the queue 160, see also col. 2, lines 43-48).

With respect to claims 19, 25 and 31, Dahlby teaches selecting a number of copies of each of the plurality of data files to be printed .See figure 7, more specifically, the third limitation in the "Job Scorecard ".

With respect to claims 20, 26 and 32, Dahlby teaches this limitation as referred to by col. 2, lines 54-58.

With respect t claims 21, 27 and 33, Dahlby teaches this limitation of the display panel with respect to the user interface 52 and the touchscreen 62.

With respect to claims 22, 28, 34, 42 and 43, Dahlby teaches this claim limitation in that the original order is changed by the manual selection of the desired order (see col. 2, lines 43-48).

With respect to claims 23 and 29, Dahlby teaches stapling with respect to col. 4, lines 12-17 and col. 6, lines 34-36.

With respect to claim 30 Dahlby teaches a computer program product stored on a computer readable medium (col. 4, lines 54-57) wherein the computer program product including instructions configured to cause an image printing device to print data files by perform the steps of: storing data files in a storage device (print queue 160) associated with the image printing device; selecting, in an arbitrary order (manual selection via desired order by operator, see col. 6, lines 37-42), a plurality of the data files stored in the storage device; displaying a serial number (job number displayed in figure 8, see also col. 7, lines 34-48) indicating the selected printing order of the selected plurality of data files; and printing the selected plurality of data files, wherein the plurality of data files re printed in the selected order (as determined in the queue 160, see also col. 2, lines 43-48).

With respect to claim 36, Dahlby teaches data files stored in the storage device 56 include data from host machine 7 and data from scanner 6.

With respect to claims 38 and 40, Dahlby teaches wherein the storage device is configured to store data from a host machine 7 and data from a scanner 6.

Claims Objected As Containing Allowable Matter

Claims 37, 39 and 41 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Examiner's Remarks

Applicant's remarks have been considered and were persuasive, hence the new grounds of rejection provided in this office action.
